ALL SMALL CLAIMS TO BE PAID.

Judge E. C. Minor, of the Law and Equity Court, yesterday ordered a decree in the cause of the Metropolitan Bank, of Richmond, against J. J. Montague and George L. Christian, trustees and receivers for James H. Pace, confirming the report of the commissioner, and taking the affairs of Mr. Pace out of the court. In brief, the order approves an arrangement between Mr. Pace's creditors, his trustees and receivers, and the bank, whereby all the unpaid small claims are to be paid, and the large debts are to be extended for a period of two years, the deeds of trust of December 14th last, released, and new deeds executed to cover these large claims which have not yet been settled. This means that the hands of the leading financial power of the South, of all the real estate, both in Virginia and in Texas, and giving him two years to work out his own salvation. The new trust will only have to secure about $100,000, a smaller sum than Mr. Pace's Franklin-street home cost him. The decree was entered by common consent, and Mr. Pace's friends congratulated him last evening upon having so satisfactorily adjusted his affairs.

COMMISSIONER DANIEL'S REPORT.
The report of the commissioner, Mr. J. R. V. Daniel, embraced about eight pages of type-written matter. It shows that at present there is in the hands of the trustees and receivers a total of $1,210,000. The order that out of this balance the following sums shall be paid:

The order directs that the deed of trust of small claims, amounting to $1,210,000, after which the cause is dismissed and the trustees and receivers discharged. This will leave Mr. Pace's property encumbered with debts amounting to $100,000, as follows: Virginia Trust Company, $24,000; Scott & Stringfellow, $24,000; C. W. Branch & Co., $20,000; E. J. ## THE ROAD RACE TO-DAY.

Owl Club's "Cycle Contest This Afternoon—The Entries.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon, weather permitting, one of the most interesting road races in the history of the silent steed in Virginia will be started. The committee, composed of Messrs. Henry F. Vaughan, Cecil Epps, and Luther Cheatwood, from the Owl "Cycle Club, under whose auspices the race is given, have worked hard and late to make it a success, and from present indications their hopes will be realized. While the list of entries is not quite as large as was expected, there are enough to make things very interesting. The race will be started by a 100 Remington Arms Company, and gradually narrows down to a silver-plated bicycle bell, donated by the New Departure Bell Company.

A baby-carriage will be awarded to the first married man crossing the tape at finish. Should he win a place for another prize, he can select either prize he desires, but cannot claim both. If he accepts the baby-carriage he will not be awarded a place in regular list.

The time prize will be awarded to the rider who makes the best time in the race.

Riders who win prizes of equal value, as scheduled in programme, will have the option of selecting the prize desired, the first in to have the first choice, the next in the second choice, etc.

IN THE WHITE CHAMBER.

Case of M. C. Henderson Dismissed.

Shot a White Girl.

The continued case of M. C. Henderson, charged with assaulting and wounding Emanuel Vaughan (colored) with a crowbar, was called, heard, and dismissed in the Police Court yesterday morning. Both Henderson and the negro are employees of the Richmond Railway and Electric Company, and on the 10th of last month became engaged in a difficulty, the result of which prevented Vaughan from attending court until yesterday. The testimony showed Vaughan to be a very insulting and abusive man, and that he threatened Henderson's life, and was in the act of striking a blow when the white man made a strong light for Henderson, and shot him to the ground with the crowbar. Counsel for the defence, Captain A. B. Gulton, made a strong light for Henderson, and shot him to the ground with the crowbar. Counsel for the defence, Captain A. B. Gulton, made a strong light for Henderson, and shot him to the ground with the crowbar.

Philip Johnson (colored) was charged with breaking into a storage shed of the Tredegar Company and carrying off a lot of harness, Louisa Hoxley, was also a complainant against Philip, whom she charged with having trespassed on her premises and threatening to shoot her. At the request of the detective the investigation of the former charge was postponed until this morning, to give him opportunity to produce the absent witnesses. For the latter offense the Justice gave Philip twelve months.

Sarah Richardson (colored) was charged with stealing a watch chain from George Thorpe.

William Richardson (colored) was fined $20 for carrying concealed weapons.

The case against Alexander Traichman, charged with being a suspicious character, was continued until the 9th, as the evidence revealed the fact that the prisoner complained against Philip, whom she charged with having trespassed on her premises and threatening to shoot her. At the request of the detective the investigation of the former charge was postponed until this morning, to give him opportunity to produce the absent witnesses. For the latter offense the Justice gave Philip twelve months.
